

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES?

- Of an abductor entering an apartment through the door and exiting through the window?
- Of a child being taken in the ONLY 5 minute window of opportunity when there was nobody checking?
- Of an abductor leaving no prints or DNA evidence?
- Of an abductor hiding behind a door that opens against a wall?
- Of a mother running away from the abduction scene, leaving two two-year olds exposed to the very same abductor?
- Of patio doors being left unlocked, yet the parents being adamant that the child had not merely wandered off?
- Of the parents staying in the apartment while everyone else searched long into the night for the 'abducted' child?
- Of all the children, of all the families, falling asleep at approximately the same time, and of none of them waking up?
- Of NONE of the group wearing watches or having their mobiles with them?
- Of not taking your children to the restaurant with you because there was no buggy available?
- Of having your wallet, sports bag and your child all taken - all in separate incidents within a few weeks?
- Of a mother who said the "abductor" had moved cuddle cat, actually holding it and washing it when it could have had the "abductors" prints or DNA on it?
- Of the parents of an abducted child to keep always forgetting to mention the £2m reward for her safe return during their TV appeals?
- Of the finger of suspicion being pointed at another by three of the group, until the likeness to one of the group was observed?
- Of the parents not sacking a detective agency who endangered the life of their child by announcing her location and her imminent rescue - on two separate occasions?

- Of highly-trained forensic cadaver dogs and DNA analysts from the UK being mistaken?
- Of a GP coming into contact with 6 dead bodies in the week before the holiday?
- Of the GP bringing a "Cuddle Cat" to work with her and it thus acquiring the scent of death?

- Of the Portuguese police offering a "deal" for which there is no provision under Portuguese Law?
- Of the parents setting up a website within one week, and registering the child's eye defect as a trademark within 2 weeks of her disappearance?
- OF innocent parents refusing to help the police by answering their questions and not immediately agreeing to take part in a reconstruction?

The combined police forces of two countries, plus Interpol...

Ex-SAS officers and 30 private detectives...

The backing of several millionaires and a £1m 'fighting fund' donated by the public...

A £2.5m reward on offer and an unprecedented 'awareness' campaign...

The unstinting support of the entire British media...

The world's best sniffer dogs and forensic scientists...

... and still not a single lead?

Still not a single clue turned up supporting the claim of abduction?
